Comparison of Shangji Plum Essence and Traditional Plum extracts manufacturing process

- ◆ Shangji Plum essence (Highly concentrated extract of green plum) process method :
selection of organic green plums → wash → extract whole pieces green plum and condense → baked with low temperature → making into pills (Shangji plum paste making process is same, but maintain in paste form without baking process)
- ◆ Japan' traditional plum extracts process method :
Pitted green plum → broke into pieces → juicing → cooking for long hours → become black pastes

Features of Shangji Plum Essence

- 1. Condense into 1kg of green plum essence from 100kgs of green Plum (with Seed)
- 2. No through hand work, but through high technology process
The whole condense manufacturing process is safe, hygiene, no worries of cook burnt smell.
- 3. Whole food concept
It contains natural sugars, lactic acid enzymes, bitter Laetrile (this is the inner beauty of plum seeds like almonds), and this is the traditional plum inaccessible components.
- 4. Value for Money
Green Plum from hand picking process to the end of finish products (Plum Essence). It is very high production costing. Anyhow, it brings towards the ultimate best health. This is beyond the value.
- 5. Easy to carry and convenient
Enjoyed any time, anywhere any place.
